Training Announcement:
Early Detection of Developmental Delays and Disabilities

The Georgia Department of Public Health (DPH) is leading a training initiative for the purpose of educating state personnel and foster parents on the early signs of developmental disability in children 0-5 yrs. As a foster parent in Georgia, you are invited to participate and preview a new curriculum that combines classroom learning and post-training assignments to reinforce comprehension of the most up-to-date information about developmental disabilities.

As a result of this session, you will:

- Improve your knowledge and awareness of developmental disabilities to better identify the signs of concern and connect to appropriate screenings and interventions.
- Increase your understanding of the roles of the Department of Public Health and Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities and the services they provide.
- Learn successful strategies for communicating with agencies and the professionals to coordinate the necessary screenings, diagnosis, and follow-up interventions.
- Review resources on the physical and social-emotional developmental milestones and their connection to the whole health of children.
- Gain valuable statewide and national resources for your family and to share with others.
- Network with other families who share your concerns.
- Receive training credit hours for your efforts.
